DESCRIPTION

Intense ballads and breathtaking riffs are the foundation of a solid mountain crowned by the expressive and smooth voice of David Hooper, whom, alongside with The SilverBacks as backing band, pick up the never-ending torch of Soul music and carve their names into the book of black music history.

It's My Turn is an album in which we seek to go deeper into the sound of Soul done in the 60s in the south of the U.S.A. Our goal is to pay tribute to labels like Hi records, but without giving up our own identity.

This project has been very carefully developed, from its conception to its final stages, and David is the secret ingredient to make perfect a record accomplished with mastery by Tucxone Records workforce.

Handmade and with our heart embedded into every piece of work, our records are carefully recorded and mixed by Captain Tucxone himself, the illustrious Alberto "Likkle Tuco" Peces and his Lieutenant Genesis Candela, to make sure that only the most sincere, raw and greasy sounds will make it to see the light for the joy of the lovers of the genre.
