DESCRIPTION

HMLT, (pronounced "Hamlet") are a Toronto based RnB duo, comprised of brothers Corey and Taylor Wong. The two have been honing their soulful craft for some time, establishing themselves with previous releases while performing steadily throughout Toronto. Their most recent release, Wednesday EP, is a collaborative project with fellow Toronto RnB artists Kei-Li and Joyia.

Every Wednesday HMLT would pick up Kei-Li down the road. As they rolled through the backwoods, Joyia would anxiously await their arrival at "Wong Way Studios." With Kei-li and his overly heavy swing, Joyia's angelic whisper, and HMLT's unwavering loyalty to Ableton, together they bound their unique and special powers, creating what would be known as the Wednesday EP.
